AN ACT to promote the reconstruction of the State of Georgia

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled That the governor of the State of Georgia be and hereby is authorized and directed, forthwith to issue a proclamation to summon all persons elected to the general assembly of said State as appears by the proclamation of George G Meade the general commanding the military district including the State of Georgia, dated at June twenty fifth eighteen hundred and sixty-eight, to appear on some day certain to be named in said proclamation at Atlanta in said State and thereupon the said general assembly of said State shall proceed to perfect its organization in accordance with the Constitution and laws of the United States, according to the provisions of this act

SEC 2 And be it further enacted That when the members so elected to said senate and house of representatives shall be convened as aforesaid each and every member and each and every person claiming to be elected as a member of said senate or house of representatives shall in addition to taking the oath or oaths required by the constitution of Georgia also take and subscribe and file in the office of the secretary of state of the State of Georgia one of the following oaths or affirmations namely I do solemnly swear (or affirm as the case may be) that I have never held the office, or exercised the duties of senator or representative in Congress, nor any person her of the legislature of any State of the United States nor held any civil office created by or under the administration of any general law of the United States for the administration of justice in any State or under the laws of the United States, nor held any office in the military or naval service of the United States and thereafter engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to its enemies or rendered, except in consequence of direct physical force any support or aid, to any surrection or rebellion against the United States, nor held any office under or given any support to any government of any kind organized or acting in hostility to the United States, or levying war against the United States. So help me God, (or on the pains and penalties of perjury, as the case may be) Or the following oath or affirmation namely "I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I have been relieved, by an act of the Congress of the United States, from disability as provided for in section three of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States So help me God (or on the pains and penalties of perjury, as the case may be) Which oath or affirmation when so filed shall be entered of record by the secretary of State of the State of Georgia, and said oath or affirmation or a copy of the record thereof, duly certified by said secretary of state, shall be evidence in all courts and places And every person claiming to be so elected and who shall refuse or decline or neglect or be unable to take one of said oaths or affirmations above provided shall not be admitted to a seat in said senate or house of representatives or to a participation in the proceedings thereof, but shall be deemed ineligible to such seats

SEC 3 And be it further enacted, That if any person claiming to be elected to said senate or house of representatives, as aforesaid shall falsely take either of said oaths or affirmations above provided, he shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and shall be subject to the pains and penalties thereof and may be tried convicted, and punished therefor by the circuit court of the United States for the district of Georgia, in which district said crime was committed, and the jurisdiction of said court shall be sole and exclusive for the purpose aforesaid

SEC 4 And be it further enacted, That the person elected, as aforesaid, and entitled to compose such legislature and who shall comply with the provisions of this act by taking one of the oaths or affirmations above prescribed shall thereupon proceed to said senate and house of representatives to which they have been elected, respectively, to reorganize said senate and house of representatives, respectively by the election and qualification of the proper officers of each house

SEC 5 And be it further enacted That if any person shall by force violence or fraud, wilfully hinder or interrupt any person or persons elected as aforesaid from taking either of the oaths or affirmations prescribed by this act or from performing the proceedings of said senate or house of representatives, after having taken one of said oaths or affirmations, and otherwise complied with this act, he shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and on be being convicted, and punished therefor, by the circuit or district court of the United States for the district of Georgia, in which district said offence shall be committed, and shall be punished therefor by imprisonment at hard labor for not less than two nor more than ten years in the discretion of the court and the jurisdiction of said courts shall be sole and exclusive for the purpose aforesaid

SEC 6 And be it further enacted That it is hereby declared that the exclusion of any person or persons elected as aforesaid, and being otherwise qualified, from participation in the proceedings of either senate or house of representatives upon the ground of race, color or previous condition of servitude would be illegal and revolutionary and is prohibited

SEC 7 And be it further enacted That upon the application of the governor of Georgia the President of the United States shall employ such military or naval forces of the United States as may be necessary to enforce and execute the preceding provisions of this act

SEC 8 And be it further enacted, That the legislature shall ratify the fifteenth amendment proposed to the Constitution of the United States before senators and representatives from Georgia are admitted to seats in Congress

Whig & Courier.

JOHN H. LYNDE, - - PROPRIETOR.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1870.

The leaders of the Democratic party are in favor of disfranchising citizens of the United States because they do not agree with them in politics. They oppose the 15th amendment to the Constitution, and what does that say? Simply that "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or any State, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude." There is nothing more to it. It is so clearly just and right that no man without sinister motive can object to it. It does not say merely that the negro shall vote. It says the Irishman, the Englishman, the Frenchman, the Spaniard, the Italian, all having become entitled simply by birth or residence in the United States shall be entitled to vote. It says none of these can be deprived of this right in our free country because of their previous state of vassalage or oppression elsewhere. It declares only the immortal truths of the Declaration of Independence, that all men are born free and equal. Can anything be plainer than that this is an act of the purest wisdom and justice? Can any one doubt its intent to substantiate the doctrine of popular liberty?—Can any one doubt that the enemies of such a provision are friends of despotism? Yet the Democratic leaders are fighting this salutary measure. Is it too much to say that they are doing it in the interest of party alone, and that it is the ally of despotism? Not the black man alone, nor the Chinamen, nor the man shaded with a "visible admixture," is obnoxious to its leaders. They would as well disfranchise any other distinct class where there was a supposed conflict of interest. The people will take warning of a party that declares itself in favor of the abridgment of popular rights.

Tired of solid, square lying the Portland Argus has taken to sarcasm, and its efforts show how hard it is for a wee bit of a freshwater smelt to flounder in profounder depths. It is certainly illustrating its fitness for State patronage in its editorial chastity, and its wit is only equalled by the truth which through its columns astonishes its gaping readers in seasons of absent-mindedness once or twice a year. Its last efforts at The Whig seem to indicate that the old lady has given her little lap pet too much rope, and somebody has pulled his shaggy ears and stepped on his tender toes; she should draw in the cord that leads him and take him in her arms. Poodles are not so cheap as to be running around loose since the Legislature has gone into the dog-fancier business.

The proceedings of the Georgia Legislature, partially given in our telegraphic columns, will strike our readers as a practical confirmation of the wisdom of Congress in drawing the reins on that State once more. Georgia is not reconstructed, and plantation manners yet afflict her Democracy, and perhaps some of her Republicans also. At any rate she needs reforming, and the sooner it is commenced the better.

RAPID TRAVELLING FOR AROOSTOOK.—Some gentlemen, residing in Fredericton, left Portland on Saturday last at 1.30 p. m., and arrived in Houlton at 6 the next evening, and left immediately and would be in Fredericton at 6 in the evening; making about 30 hours from Portland to Fredericton by the way of Houlton.

We take the above from the Aroostook papers. The Houlton papers have made heavy boasts about the St. Andrews Railroad being all sufficient to supply them with an outlet.—Now here is a case where some one uses the St. Andrews Road for a very different purpose. Why didn't he go down instead of up that road? Why didn't he seek an outlet at St. Andrews instead of Houlton? When the E. & N. A. Railway is entirely completed, will not freight follow travel this way? Will not Houlton wish it had put money into a Railroad this side the line instead of the other? Will she not finally reach out towards the Aroostook Railroad that is to be built? These are growing to be practical questions.

Our new County Jail is far under way, and the work should be prosecuted without unnecessary delay. Thus far the County Commissioners have expended about $40,000. The sum of $25,000 more is deemed necessary to close it up in good style. This will have to be raised by a loan, and for this purpose authority will have to be procured of the Legislature. The Commissioners have petitioned that such authority be delegated to the County Treasurer. Our citizens should see to it that this is not allowed to rest here. The work should go on.

The New York mystery about the tunnel is at last explained. It is not a railroad at all, nor is there any truth in the cry that Broadway had "settled" in consequence of it—that being, as we expected, a bugbear of interested parties. The enterprise is simply what it purports to be, a tunnel for a pneumatic tube for the conveyance of packages. The first section will be finished for use and inspection in a few weeks.

It will be seen by our dispatches that Brigham Young has driven the last spike in the railroad which connects Mormonism with outside barbarism. Perhaps Young did not dream that he was also driving one of the last spikes into Polygamy. Its doom is sealed by the "Saints" themselves.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. Darton, recently Minister from Portugal to the United States, has been transferred in that capacity to Brussels.

General Joseph E. Johnston has definitely declined to accept the proffered Presidency of the University of Nashville, Tenn.

It is said in a private letter from Paris, that the resignations of the French Minister at London and Berlin, were owing to the want of sympathy with the new French Regime.

Governor Hayes of Ohio, suggested in his Message to the Legislature that provision be made for a thorough examination of the workings of the New York Inebriate Asylum, with the view of establishing a similar institution in Ohio.

The United States Senate in executive session Monday, confirmed the nomination of Lorenzo Sawyer, to be Circuit Judge for the 9th Judicial Circuit, and referred the treaty for the acquisition of San Domingo to the Committee on Foreign relations.

Brevet Major General Charles Smith, commanding the 19th Infantry, being next in rank to General Joseph A. Mower, late commander of the Department of Louisiana, has been assigned to the command of that Department in place of Mower, deceased. Brevet Major General Relief Ayres is assigned to the command of the 19th Infantry at Little Rock, Arkansas, and Brevet Major General J J Reynolds is assigned to the command of the 35th Infantry, vice General Mower, deceased, though General Reynolds remains in command of the State of Texas.

A general has arrisen in Paris between Prince Pierre Bonaparte and the writers of the Marseillaise in consequence of a letter [illegible] the Prince. [illegible] a note to Henri Rochefort, editor of the Marseillaise, closing with these words. "I reside at No. 99 Rue Dantiel, and I promise you that if you present yourself you will not be told that I am out." The affair is extensively commented on by the press.

REPORTS.

Finances of the State.

Treasurer Caldwell makes a favorable report of our financial condition as a State. The receipts of last year exceeded the expenditures by about $20,000. The anticipated necessity for a temporary loan which was provided in March has not arisen, owing to this gratifying condition. The following is the exhibit in brief:

RECEIPTS.

Whole amount received during the year 1869,	$1,370,314 70
Cash in the Treasury January 1, 1869,	215,125 93
	$1,585,440 63

EXPENDITURES.

Whole amount of payments for the year 1869,	$915,609 80
Cash balance in the Treasury December 31, 1869,	235,830 63
	$1,151,440 43

The resources of the State on the 1st day of January were cash $235,631, due on taxes $1,071,468, bills receivable in land office, $7,209, school fund, $16,040—in all $1,330,708. The liabilities of the State were $9,882,081—of which $8,100,000 belong to the public debt, $1,691,284 are trust funds. $83,772 are balances due and uncalled for, and $6,127 due for County taxes collected in 1869. The estimated receipts for the current year are $1,370,000, and the estimated expenditures $1,220,040 showing a balance on the right side of the ledger of more than $100,000.

The amount of reimbursements to towns on account of the war debt, $3,105,183 is recoined into the public debt. The total war debt of Maine is $7,716,000. The balance of the public debt of 1861, is $784,000.

"An act to create and establish a sinking fund," was passed January 28th, 1865. This act provides for the raising by taxation each year a sum equal to three-quarters of one mill on every dollar of the valuation as then established, to be applied for the payment of the principal of the bonds of this State issued by authority of the several resolves, approved, January 31, 1863, for $525,000; March 20, 1863, for $475,000; March 19, 1864, for $2,832,500.

The sinking fund now amounts to nine hundred and seventy-two thousand five hundred and thirty dollars)$972,530.00), and is invested in bonds of the State of Maine to the amount of $942,500, the balance in 5-20s United States bonds and cash.

The bonds of this State, with the coupons attached thereto, are stamped upon the face, "Sinking Fund of the State of Maine"

For this fund there has been received from taxation,	$520,966 32
From the United States,	333,929 75
" Interest,	117,703 72
	$972,530 00

The trust bonds held by the State form an interesting feature of the treasurer's exhibit. There are the school funds, derived from the land agent's sales, and amounting now to $408,808; the Agricultural college has a fund of $104,695; Bates college has a deposit of $10,000; Madawaska Plantation has $5,000, and School District No. 2 of Madison, $1,000. To these funds for educational purposes must be added the Sanford legacy of $1,300 for the Reform School and the benefit of the blind, deaf and dumb, the Passamaquoddy and Penobscot Indian funds, amounting to $84,688, the deposit of the Union Mutual life insurance company, and finally the sum of $815,190 due on soldiers' allotments, in sums ranging from $1 to $400.

The payments during the past year on the public debt including interest and the sinking fund, amount to $427,562.

The State Prison.

The Governor in his address pays a high compliment to the management of the State Prison, which all who are conversant with the system of Warden Rice will heartily indorse. The number of pardons is large. 19 for the year, and is in great measure due to the lenient treatment under which good behavior is made of so much account. Convicts applying for pardon have a pretty clear case if their prison record is good for a year or more.

At the close of the year ending Nov. 30, 1868, there were 141 convicts in the State prison at Thomaston. The average for the year had been 138. On the 30th November 1869, there were 174 convicts, the largest number ever detained there, and the average for the year has been 154, showing an increase of 11 per cent. This increase of 35 in the number of convicts, is a net increase. Thirty-two were discharged at the expiration of their sentences. The number of commitals has been 84. The number of pardons by the Governor and Council is less than last year, but is still about twice as great as the largest number ever pardoned in one year in Massachusetts. The suggestion made by Warden Rice in his last report appears to have been adopted, and it is required that convicts applying for pardon shall show a clear record of good conduct for at least a year.

Of the 84 convicts committed in 1869, by far the greater part, 49 were imprisoned for larceny, and 9 more for burglary; 3 for arson; 2 each for robbery and perjury; and 1 each for adultery, bigamy, mayhem, forgery, bestiality, felonious assault, assault to kill, assault to ravish, and murder. Four counties, Aroostook, Franklin, Lincoln and Oxford, are not represented in this list; Sagadahoc, Somerset and Piscataquis have 1. Knox 2, Hancock and Kennebec 3, Androscoggin, Waldo and Washington 4 convicts each, while Penobscot has 24 and Cumberland 32. Of the whole number of convicts, 116 are natives of Maine, 26 of other States, and 32 of foreign countries.

Warden Rice suggests that short sentences in the State Prison are of little avail to reform the culprit. His aim is to keep them usefully employed, and where the sentence is not over a year, time is scarcely given to attract the prisoner to other than his old practices. He recommends that during their preliminary imprisonment in county jails they should be put to some labor. He thinks with the Inspectors, that the working capital of the Prison should be increased. Of the appropriation last year $15,000 was taken for working capital. The result of the year's operations is a surplus of $689, showing an improvement of over $3000 as a direct result of the more extensive and profitable employment of the convicts. The carriage department paid last year $23,575, and the boot and shoe department $4,112; fees from visitors made up the total income of the prison to $27,948, while the total expenditures were $23,257. The Inspectors say that manufacturing capital, to be profitably employed, should average, according to the prison experience of the six States of Michigan, New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, not less than $1000 for each convict. The working capital at Thomaston is less than $800 for each convict, and unless it is increased the business will have to be curtailed and the earnings will consequently be diminished.

The Attorney General's Report

shows that 87 convicts have been sentenced to the State Prison, of whom two have been pardoned and one escaped; 99 to the county jails; 6 to the Reform School; 148 to payment of fines; 2 to be hung; and 2 have been sent to the Insane Hospital. The number of liquor cases disposed of in 1869 was 95, the amount of fines collected $7,774, and the number of committals 17, exceeding in each item the business of 1868. And this list accounts for the greater aggregate of crime than usually appears in this State. He complains that County Attorneys and Treasurers are negligent in their duties, and some remedy ought to be enforced. He makes many reasonable suggestions whereby justice may be better insured. He does not like the law of last winter providing for a review in criminal cases "at any time within six years after conviction," and wants it repealed.

The most important civil suits now pending are State of Maine vs. B. D. Peck and Boudoinen, (which Attorney General Fry says he transmits to his successor just as he received it) and Penobscot Indians vs the Veazie Heirs, (which involves the title to Grassey Island, in the Penobscot river, and considerable time will probably elapse before it is finally disposed of.)

A Jackson (Miss.) dispatch says that Gov Alcorn refuses to be installed until the State is admitted into the Union. The Legislature will meet to ratify the Fifteenth Amendment, elect U. S Senators, and then adjourn until after the admission of the State.

A Valparaiso letter states that the Argentine Republic insist upon the withdrawal of the allied troops from Paraguay and that the choice of a Government be left to the free will of the people. This will divide the allies

CITY AFFAIRS.

At the special meeting of the City Council on Tuesday evening the following business was transacted

Reports Accepted—

Of the special committee on the centennial celebration of this city, stating the cost of said celebration to be $2521 47 leaving a balance unexpended of the amount appropriated for the same of $87 53

Of the Committee on Finance on the subject of requesting our Representatives in the Legislature to oppose all propositions for the consolidation of the Railroads in this State—that said order be indefinitely postponed—Laid on the table

Of the Special Committee on the subject of extending the limits to which wharves may be built into Kenduskeag Stream, as prayed for in the petition of Messrs Peters & Wilson, attorneys for owners of wharf property at the east end of Kenduskeag Bridge. The Board of Aldermen receded from their former vote and granted said petitioners leave to withdraw, in concurrence with the Common Council.

Of the Special Committee on the petition of the President and Directors of the Waterport Railroad asking the City Council to cause the question of raising the sum of $50,000 and appropriate the same to and the construction of said road by subscribing to the capital stock of said Railroad Company, under the act of Feb 28, 1867. Accepted

Said Report recommends the submission of said question, and an order accompanied the same, for the calling of a meeting of the legal voters of the city to vote upon said question on the first Monday of February next, which order was indefinitely postponed.

The petition of G. L. Boynton et als asking that the question above named be submitted to the legal voters of the city on the 25th of the present month. Read and placed on file, and the first Monday in February next assigned for said meeting and the City Clerk instructed to prepare the warrants for the same

The Special Committee on the subject of bringing water from Hat Case Pond into the city made a full report, accompanied by the report of H. F. Mills of his survey of same, with an order. Accepted and 300 copies of same ordered to be published in pamphlet form

Orders acted upon—

That as soon as the owners of the lots on the south side of the east end of Kenduskeag Bridge shall have conveyed by deed, satisfactory to the City Solicitor, the land claimed by them, now used as sidewalk, the Street Engineers proceed to change the limits to which the owners of said lots may extend their wharf, 12 feet, at the line of the Bridge and running to a point 60 or 80 feet south of the same. This order was passed by the Board of Aldermen, but was subsequently referred to a special committee consisting of Aldermen Weed, Woodbury and Godfrey, and Messrs Varney, White, Dole, Hersey, Tobin, Arnold, Roberts and Hodgkins.

[The chairman requests the committee to meet at the Aldermen's Room on Thursday at 8 o'clock, p. m.]

NEW TANNERY.—IMPORTANT SALE. The Plantation of Independence, in this State, will soon boast of the largest tannery in New England, if not the largest in the country.—Messrs. R. S. Kingsman of Winn, and the Shaw Brothers, have made very heavy purchases at that point, and are negotiating for additional tracts of land, and permits to cut bark. Of the Webster heirs they purchase 1600 acres of land for which they pay over $50,000. Of Palmer & Johnson they purchase the bark on 14000 acres of land for $12,500. Of D. K. Stockwell they purchase one half of East Indian Township, about 16,000 acres, for which they pay $2,50 per acre.—They propose to erect at the Skittleook Falls, on the Mattawamkeag river, a tannery considerably larger than the one at Winn, and it will employ a very large number of men. This will furnish a large amount of business to the E. & N. A. Railway, which is laid out through these tracts of land, and will add materially to the prosperity of that section of the country as well as indirectly to the city.—And this is only the beginning.

Stammering and Stuttering

Treated upon a newly discovered principle

DR BURNS would inform those that is afflicted that he has discovered the origin the local cause and effects of stammering, also a remedy, by the application of which, the patient, (in a majority of cases) is enabled to speak and read with distinctness in the short space of two hours, without distress or pain to the patient.

Dr Burns, in order to give satisfaction, has adopted the following terms, viz Should the applicant not be convinced at once of the efficacy of the remedy and decline it to avail himself of its benefits, then it will cost him nothing.

Reader, this newly discovered mode of treatment is no humbug. No charge for consultation

Has invented an enamel which does not mark, scratch or rub off, neither will water or acid dissolve it. Said enamel brings out all the middle tints or very fine shadows, and imparts to the Photograph a beautiful finish which has never before been produced by any process. Photographs treated with this enamel must be very permanent, for the picture is perfectly protected from air or dampness, and, certainly we never had anything that gave so beautiful a finish to our Photographs before.

THE GEORGIA LEGISLATURE UNRECONSTRUCTED—STORMY SESSION.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 10.

Special to N. Y. Tribune—

Both Houses of the Georgia Legislature convened to-day at 12 o'clock. The galleries were filled long before the hour of meeting.

The seats of Senator Adkins and Representatives Ayres and Flourney, killed during the recess before reaching their homes, were trimmed with crape and remained vacant.

The Senate met at 12 o'clock, 36 members being present, and all except one taking the oath. It is said that four are not qualified.—The Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

The House was called to order by the Hon. A. L. Harris.

In compliance with the order of Gov. Bullock's proclamation the members were then called to take the oath prescribed by the Constitution of Georgia and by Congress. When these members had been sworn, the chairman ordered the opinion of Attorney General Farrow of Georgia to be read in regard to the scope of the oath prescribed by Congress, accompanying the communication from Gen. Terry indorsing the opinion. The reading was soon interrupted. Capt. S. E. Bryant of Augusta arose to utter a protest against the reading of this document.

The chairman called him to order, but he persisted that he was a member elect of this House and would stand on his rights.

The chairman ordered the sergeant-at-arms to arrest him.

W. J. Hinton, sergeant-at-arms, laid his hand on his shoulder and asked him to come down, but Capt. Bryant raised his arm in a menacing manner and threatened to strike Hinton if he arrested him, when the latter drew a pistol. Men arose in various parts of the House.

Mr. Caldwell, Republican, said that men had pistols out in the hall, and asked if order could not be maintained.

There was now great excitement. Bryant and the chairman were alternately cheered from the galleries, and there were indications of serious trouble. Quiet was at last partially restored and the administration of the oath was proceeding, when Bryant moved that J. H. Caldwell take the chair, and put the question, which was followed by loud ayes.

Mr. Caldwell passed up in the direction of the Speaker's desk accompanied by Bryant, it was supposed with the intention of taking the chair, but he explains that he did not hear the motion, and went forward merely because he heard his name called.

A motion was then made to adjourn, add great excitement followed.

Dunlap Scott, Dem., from Floyd county, moved that Capt. Bryant be Speaker pro tem of the House, and put the question.

Bryant advanced to the Speaker's desk and standing up in the front put the motion to adjourn. He then declared the House adjourned until ten o'clock to-morrow.

In the midst of this wildness of confusion the chairman, Mr. Harris, conducted himself with courage and composure. He arose and announced that the House had been declared adjourned by Bryant, ana said he was here to organize this House, and if he could not do so without assistance he would procure it.

This was followed by another ebullition among the disturbers, during which Bryant announced that he would go and see General Terry.

Some members had by this time left the hall, but quiet was soon restored and the work of administering the oath then proceeded without further disturbance.

Bryant was elected as a Repuglican, but has acted with the Democrats in former sessions.

PENOBSCOT CONFERENCE.

The semi-annual meeting of the Penobscot Co. Conference of Congregational Churches commenced its session Tuesday morning, January 11, in the First Parish Church, in this city.

The Moderator, Rev. S. P. Fay, being absent from the city, Mr. Smith Baker of Orono, Scribe, called the meeting to order, and Mr. John S. Kimball was elected Moderator, pro tem.

Prayer was offered.

Afternoon. 2 o'clock.—Prayer and remarks by Rev. Dr. Thurston of Searsport, Rev. S Baker of Orono, and the Moderator.

The first topic of discussion was introduced by Rev. Dr. Thurston, of Searsport,—"Is permanent good secured by a direct appeal to the emotions?" He was followed by Dr. Pond and Professor Herrick of Bangor, and Rev. S. L. Bowler of Hampden.

United in singing, "I love thy Kingdom, Lord."

Second topic,—"Ought we to have shorter and simpler church creeds?"

Opened by Rev. Dr. Herrick, who read a short creed, in monosyllables,—by way of illustration, to show how simple the doctrines of Christ may be made, for the comprehension of children.

Prof. Herrick was followed by John L. Crosby of Bangor, Rev. S. L. Bowler of Hampden, Dr. Pond, Dr. Thurston, William Forsyth of Dexter, and Rev. Newman Smyth. An intense interest was elicited by the discussion. Prof. Herrick in his closing remarks made it apparent that there was a very general agreement in the essential doctrines of the Bible, whatever apparent differences were brought out in the discussion.

Adjourned.

7 o'clock—"Devotional exercises," in which the Moderator, Rev. James Wells of Dedham, and Dea. Thatcher of Bangor, led.

7½ o'clock—Discussion of the third topic—"Religious Conventions." Do they not lessen the sense of personal responsibility in Christian work? Introduced by Rev. N. Smythe followed with remarks from Dr. Lincoln, and J. M. Lunt of Bngor, W. Forsyth, J. S. Rae, and Mr. Tebbetts of the Seminary, Rev. Dr. Thurston of Searsport.

The general feeling prevailing was that while these had a tendency to diminish a sense of personal responsibility, which should be guarded against, yet they had proved a means of quickening to individual souls, and leading to increased effort for Christ.

United in prayer, with J. M. Lunt.

Fourth topic—"Obligation for the success of the institutions of religion: Does it not rest on all the members of the church and congregation?" Remarks were made by Rev. J. S. Coggswell of Holden, Dr. Lincoln, John L. Crosby, W. P. Hubbard, of Bangor, and Mr. Walker of the Seminary.

The obligation of each, in his place to maintain the institutions of the Gospel, and to advance the Kingdom of Christ on earth, were forcibly set forth.

Rev. Prof. Barbour, of the Seminary, in the closing remarks, embraced both topics, clearly setting forth the Biblical view of responsiquility—of Christian labor—it was personal—it was minute—every one was to be a burden-bearer, a steward. With this in view as a foundation, all good influences and works would flow.

The exercises were closed with singing the Doxology, and benediction by Rev. J. S. Coggswell of Holden.

Committee of Arrangements:—Rev. Dr. Herrick, Geo. A. Thatcher, and John L. Crosby.

Committee on Nominations:—Rev. S. L. Bowler of Hampden, J. H. Farrington of Brewer, Professor Fernald of Orono.

At 11 o'clock, the opening sermon was preached, by Rev. Newman Smythe of Andover, Mass. Text:—John 1: 9. "That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world." Theme:—The adaptation of Christianity to all types of character.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. S. Cogswell of Holden, and the preacher.

—The Board of Aldermen last evening granted a license to Charles S. Pearl as an Auctioneer.

POLICE COURT, Tuesday, January 11th,—John Gallagher was up on a search and seizure warrant, and fined $50 and costs, from which he appealed.

SEIZURES. Several bottles containing a small amount of various kinds of liquors were seized at the saloon of Chas. Blackwell, and a small quantity of liquor and some ale from Burnham's saloon, yesterday.

—The Portland Argus says that considerable damage was done in Cape Neddick during the gale on Sunday night, 2d inst. Among other things damaged was a new barn blown down, owned by Capt. Rufus Norton; also a barn owned by George Bowden, Esq., completely demolishing it.

—The Universalists of the State will hold a centenary meeting in Portland, Thursday Jan. 20. It is expected that Rev. Dr. E. H Chapin will be present, and there will probably be a large gathering of the leading men of the denomination.

—The Machias Union says that Mr. R. L. Andrews of Marshfield, recently had an encounter with two bears while at work in the woods. He was obliged to make double quick time to the camp.

—The Press says that Mr. Moses Winslow, of Portland, messenger on the Eastern Express Company, was found Sunday morning in a state of syncope in his room at the City Hotel, Boston. By the prompt use of remedies he was restored to consciousness and his life saved. An accidental over-dose of gelsenium, wqich Mr. Widslow was accustomed to use for neuralgia, was the cause of the difficulty.

—The Machias Republican gives the following items regarding Whitneyville lumbermen: "The lumber teams are doing a very slim business, no snow for logging. Fears are entertained that the mills will have a small stock of logs next summer; Messrs Talbot & Dunning are in the lumber business here and furnish supplies for two or three teams; Mr. John Mareen also is engaged in the lumber trade, and furnishes several teams in the woods logging; Mr. Willis Bridgham furnishes goods and supplies to some teams operating up river; the McRavey brothers of this town are logging this winter on the Penobscot, cutting and hauling timber from land owned by E. Longfellow & Son of Machias.—The McRaveys always do a successful winter's work; Mr. Valentine Dunning is in the logging woods with his team of horses and oxen, operating from Township No. 42, a township that furnishes first class timber."

—The Portland Advertiser says Mr. Geo L. Vose, of Paris, has emerged from the retirement in which he has lived since his crusade against the Grand Trunk Railway, and is now preparing a map of the White Mountain District. This has never been done, and requires a good deal of labor. Mr. Vose says that the line between New Hampshire and Maine is a very crooked one, and that if straightened, it would change titles to not a few persons owning land on the borders of the two States.

Three new counterfeits fifty cents of the new series were received at the Treasury Monday. Their execution is superior to any other spurious fractional currency and better calculated to deceive. The paper, however, is inferior to that of the genuine.

The art of puffing has reached its climax out in Illinois. This is the way they do it:—"If you want to hear of the hidden river, the rush of the mighty Colorado over falls the imagination fails to picture, through chasms which have rent the hearts of the mountains, and down into the inner depths of the earth, go listen to Major Powell."

POETRY.

WHEN YOU WERE SEVENTEEN.

When the hay was mown, Maggie,
In the years long ago,
And while the western sky was rich
With sunset's rosy glow,
Then hand in hand close-linked we passed
The dewy ricks between,
And I was one-and twenty, Mag,
And you were seventeen.

Your voice was low and sweet, Maggie;
Your wavy hair was brown;
Your cheek was like the wild red rose
That showered its petals down;
Your eyes were like the blue speedwell,
With dewy moisture sheen.
When I was one-and-twenty, Mag,
And you were seventeen.

The spring was in our hearts, Maggie,
And all its hopes were ours;
And we were children in the fields,
Among the opening flowers.
Ay! Life was like a summer day
Amid the woodland green,
For I was one-and-twenty, Mag,
And you were seventeen.

The years have come and gone, Maggie,
With sunshine and with shade,
And silvered is the silken hair
That o'er your shoulders strayed
In many a soft and wayward tress—
The fairest ever seen—
When I was one-and-twenty, Mag,
And you were seventeen.

Though gently changing Time, Maggie,
Has touched you in his flight;
Your voice was still the old sweet tone,
Your eye the old love-light;
And years can never, never change
The heart you gave, I ween,
When I was one-and-twenty, Mag,
And you were seventeen.

THE EVERGREEN MESSAGE.

A CHRISTMAS STORY.

There are few things more dreary than to to ride through the cold and darkness of a winter's night, on a railroad train. The icy blast freezes you as you essay to mitigate the horror of bad air, by an inch of open window. Dim, fantastic shapes glide out of the darkness, and vanish as you speed by. A sense of rushing blindly at the unseen, comes over the mind. It is as if some comet in heading race, had caught up and whirled off a victim. Far away you see the flash of candles in distant windows, and somehow it adds to your forlornity. There is cheer and comfort in which you have no share, and people are warm and happy; while you, a homeless wanderer, following the track of an irresponsible monster, just graze the edge of their circle, and are borne away again. And then the monster gives a shriek which the night re-echoes; and if there is a burden on your heart, it grows heavier, and the little troubles of every day, which it is so easy to fight by sunlight, crowd in upon you, and everything seems gloomy and overwhelming.

It was in something of this eerie mood, that Georgie Ware, lying back in her seat, with one soft cheek pillowed on her muff, watched the outter darkness glide by, as the express train bore her northward, one cold December night. Her cousin beside her, was fast asleep, the fresh country roses of her face undimmed by even the long day's travel. But Georgie was not of the sleepy kind, and, forced vivacity being no longer called for, her face had fallen into many listless lines sad to see in one so young. For she was only nineteen this girl who was counting herself so unhappy—and, strange to say, it is often in very early youth, that life's burdens seem heaviest, and most inevitable, and youth's bright possibilities are least realized.

I am afraid we older people would hardly reckon Georgie's case so pitiable. She had health, beauty, an abundant home, kind parents, all sorts of tastes, faculties, half-developed capacities—a life still in its bud. To be sure, she and Allen Beckwith had quarreled, and broken off their engagement! but that was no uncommon sorrow. Temper on one side, pride on the other, the well-meant interference of mutual friends—nothing could be more horribly easy than the thing had come about. "She was bored," she said. Life seemed heavy and distasteful, and she needed a change, and was glad to get away awhile, for this Chirstmas visit to New England—that was all. In the day time she could cheat herself and the rest of the world; but now, in solitude and darkness, her trouble took possession of her, and a great tear-stain dimmed the glossy fur which pillowed her cheek. It annoyed her. She pulled down her veil, and hoped Hatty wouldn't wake up for a long time yet.

Hatty was obliging. It was not until the lamps of the Kinnicut Station flared in her face, that she roused herself; and by that time, "Cousin Georgie" was again the wonder of style and composure, who had so impressed her youthful fancy. Papa was on the platform. Further on stood the swift Vermont trotters, and the sleigh with its hot bricks and buffalo robes; and as the bells jingled, and the powdery snow flew along their rapid course, Georgie's spirits rose. She half believed her recent discomposure a dream born of cold and fatigue. "I shall be all right again now," she said to herself, as they drove up to the door.

A warm welcome awaited them in the ample old homestead. The hall stove flashed its big eye of isinglass upon them, as they entered, and the noble hickory fires blazed and crackled in each chimney. Cheery reflections danced on the snowy table-cloth and glinted from the bright silver tea-pot got out to do them honor. And how delicious was the anomalous meal to taste and smell—savory chicken, potatoes bursting their brown jackets, tea, smoking omelet, fresh squash pies. Nothing was ever better; and Georgia surprised herself by clearing her plate with what her uncle called "a real Green Mountain appetite."

"The girls are so glad to have you back in time for the church dressing," said aunty to her daughter. "Alice James was here today to see about it, and when I told her that Georgie was coming with you, she hoped for help from her too. I told her very likely she could give them some new ideas. I suppose the city churches are splendid, Georgie. Did you ever assist in dressing one?"

No, Georgie never had. There were 'men' that did them, she stated vaguely; but she roused herself to take an interest, as it seemed expected of her, and the conversation flowed easily along, with little local gossipings for Hatty's benefit, and occasional explanations for her own. After a while she began to get a glimpse of the state of things. The parish boasted a new clergyman, it seemed. 'A most lovely young man,' aunty said; and 'Unmarried, of course,' Georgie adds to herself, 'else there wouldn't be all this fuss about him.' This, his first Christmas in Kinnicut, was to be celebrated with all pomp and circumstance, it seemed. And questions and answers about ground pine, and laurel, and hemlock, and ivy, and who was to get the holly berries for the font, and who the bittersweet for the arches, and Alice this, and Carry that, and Jack Somebody, who seemed quite an important person, flew to and fro till she grew quite confused. Aunty pronounced her sleepy and suggested bed, which proposal she gladly accepted, and soon, tucked under a down quilt, with the pleasant glow of the embers flickering upon her pillow, she was sleeping a long, dreamless sleep, refreshing alike to mind and body.

The sun was pouring in yellow bars through the blinds, when she awoke. Out-doors all was crisp and sparkling.

'I will make a new start to-day,' she said to herself. 'Here, where it is so pleasant, and they are all so kind, it must be easy to forget.' Braced by this resolve, she went down so bright, and graceful, and charming, that uncle, fairly bewitched, went about chanting her praises to all his cronies, and aunty couldn't say enough in her favor.

'Not a bit spoiled or stuck up; so fond of the country, it was wonderful, such a belle as she had been.' And every one who called re-echoing the same story, quite a furore arose in the village, concerning 'the young lady from New York.'

It was easy to charm others. Georgie had always found it so; to charm herself, was harder. The old pain ached still, a little duller, perhaps, but it was there. She persevered heroically, and threw herself into all that was going forward. The girls of Kinnicut were a bright, unaffected set, well-mannered and well-informed, a little more solicitous about their [illegible] than their sisters of the city, but quite as nice and capable in all respects. Such permanent questions as, 'Is there any [illegible] of Kinnicut?' 'Is Miss [illegible] engaged?' 'Is Miss [illegible] going to marry Mr. [illegible]?' which she had been in the habit of leaving entirely to the opinion of her dressmaker, that she hardly knew what to answer at first; but she was confident, encouraged, advised, lent her own [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
